

Know Before You Go

Whether you're securing accommodations, activities, dinner reservations or entry permits, please be sure to plan ahead. Ask for guidance about our beaches, roads and/or hiking trails.

Mālama

To mālama is to take care of, protect and preserve. We all carry the kuleana (responsibility) to mālama the island of Lānaʻi.

- Be safe — heed signage, rules and weather advisories.
- Remain a respectful distance from wildlife.
- Support local — buy locally-made products, attend a Lānaʻi City festival, event or farmers market.
- Protect our natural resources by using only reef-safe sunscreen, leaving your area clean and supporting environmentally-friendly businesses.

Give back and get back by volunteering. Learn more at gohawaii.com/voluntourism.

Support Local

BUY LOCAL

Supporting local businesses is a great way to mālama (care for) the Hawaiian Islands. And with plentiful mom-and-pop stores, makers markets and farmers markets, it's easy and fun to find the perfect food, fabric and handicrafts created in Hawaiʻi.

LĀNAʻI MADE

Make a stop in Lānaʻi City to find souvenirs or gifts made on Lānaʻi. Purchasing art, jewelry and other items made here is a great way to support local people and local pride.

Staying Safe

LAND SAFETY TIPS

- Drive with aloha. On Lānaʻi, driving with aloha means to drive slowly and with care, especially on dirt roads so that others on the road aren't "dusted out".
- Stay on the trail to avoid trail damage — keep yourself and others safe.
- Do not trespass or park illegally to get to trailheads.
- Brush shoes off before & after hiking to avoid spreading invasive species.

OCEAN SAFETY TIPS

- Don't step on or damage coral reefs.
- Use reef-safe mineral sunscreen.
- Never turn your back on the ocean.
- Swim only at beaches with lifeguards.
- Heed all posted warning signs.

Central Lānaʻi

Pu'upehe

Welcome

Untouched Lānaʻi has few paved roads, no crowds and lots of space to unplug and let this slower pace of life soothe your soul. The smallest of the major Hawaiian Islands, Lānaʻi has one historic town and two spectacular resorts. Indulge in true VIP-level amenities, and be sure to fit in a 4x4 drive around the island, too. Explore the island's historic town, Lānaʻi City, which is a short and scenic ride from the harbor, where you'll discover aloha within quaint shops and restaurants.

FACTS ABOUT LĀNAʻI

- The population of Lānaʻi is 3,200.
- There are three marine sanctuaries on Lānaʻi: Hulopoʻe Bay, Mānele Bay and Nānāhoa.
- Lānaʻi's highest peak is Lānaʻihale, 3,379 feet above sea level.
- This small island once produced 75% of the world's pineapples.
- There are no traffic lights on Lānaʻi.
- There is a red lava formation in the northern part of Lānaʻi called Keahiakawelo.

History & Culture

Lānaʻi is deeply rooted in Hawaiian traditions. According to tradition, the island was exclusively the realm of spirits until the sixteenth century, when the heroics of Prince Kaululāʻau tamed them and made Lānaʻi inhabitable for people. The ancient fishing village of Kaunolū, a place of refuge and King Kamehameha I's favorite summer fishing retreat, is now a sacred cultural landmark. Other notable landmarks, including Keahiakawelo, Pu'upehe, Lānaʻi City and Kaiolohia, can all be explored through the Lānaʻi Culture and Heritage Center and the Lānaʻi Guide.

LĀNAʻI ART CENTER

Residents and visitors alike can find a creative outlet at this community-run center. Drop in an art class or workshop, check out local artists' works at the gallery and gift shop or explore the center's studios, which are open to all.

LĀNAʻI CULTURE & HERITAGE CENTER

This community-based, 501(c)(3) non-profit organization is dedicated to preserving, protecting and honoring Lānaʻi's rich history, culture and values. Visit the museum located in Lānaʻi City. Current hours of operation are Monday through Friday, 11 a.m. – 3 p.m. Hours are subject to change. lanaichc.org

Regions of Lānaʻi

NORTH LĀNAʻI

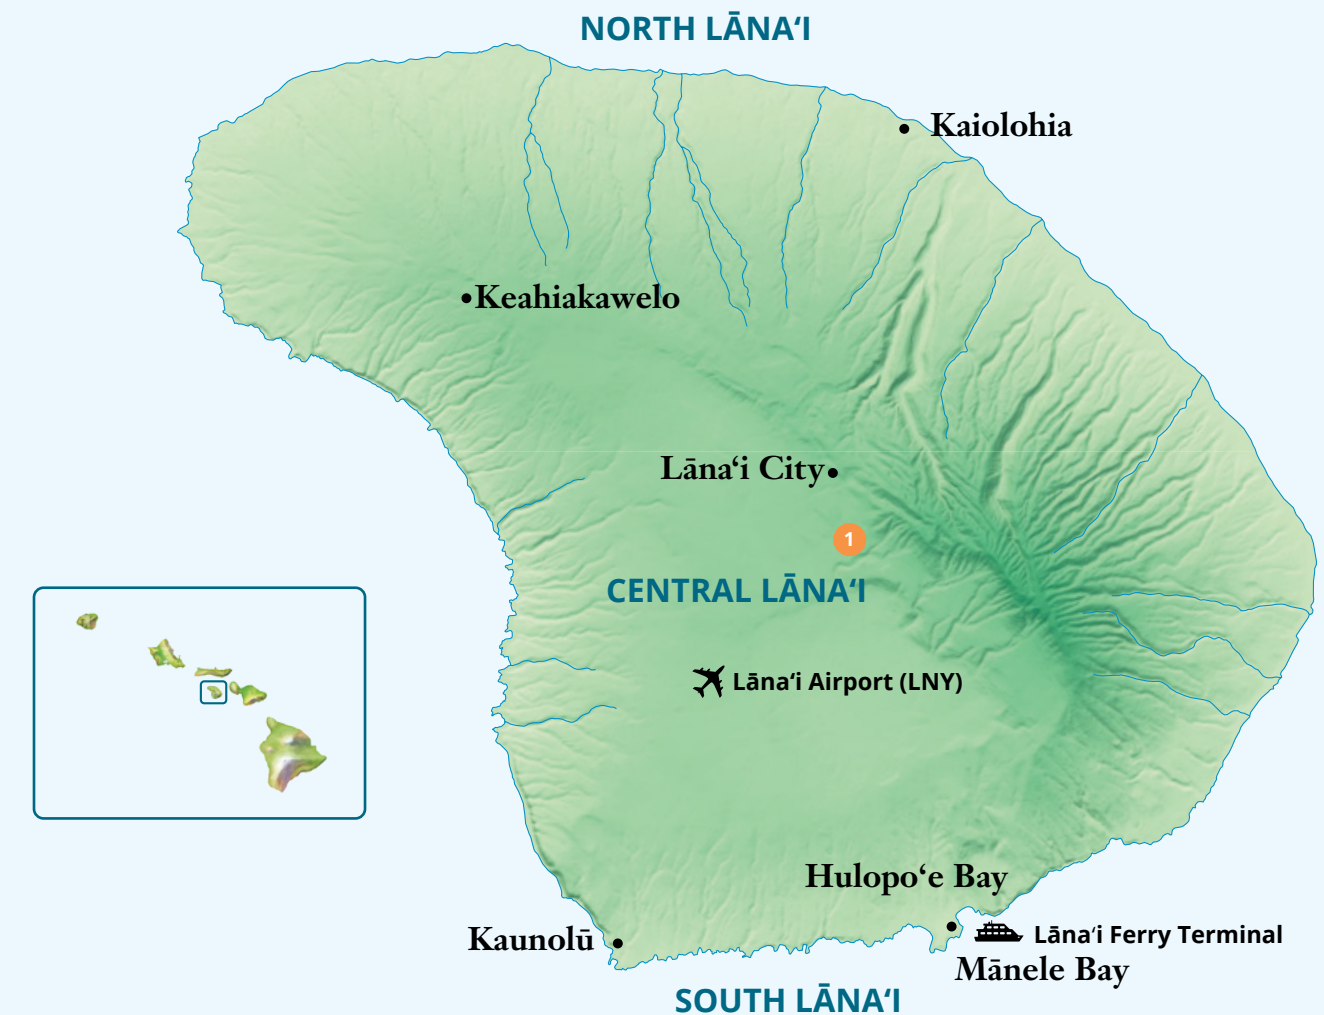

Stunning beaches and rugged nature preserves offer the perfect mix of relaxation and adventure.

CENTRAL LĀNAʻI

Hike among native ōhiʻa lehua trees or ride on horseback amongst lush valleys and ironwood forests. Or see heritage sites and more on guided UTV tours.

SOUTH LĀNAʻI

Visit the spectacular Hulopoʻe Bay for snorkeling and sunbathing, or a picnic overlooking Pu'upehe.

Resort Areas

Lānaʻi's two luxury resorts offer a range of amenities and experiences for guests seeking relaxation. One enclave features lagoon-style pools, botanical gardens and spa treatments, while the other caters to adults with wellness consultations, fitness classes and healthy dining options. Both properties provide a secluded and upscale environment for visitors to rejuvenate in a beautiful oceanfront setting.

1 LĀNAʻI CITY

Just 3 miles north of the airport, Lānaʻi City was founded in the early 1900s as a plantation town at the center of the island's booming pineapple industry — the fruit is still celebrated in the city's annual Pineapple Festival. Located in Lānaʻi's central highlands, Lānaʻi City is noticeably cooler than coastal areas of the island.

Many of the shops, restaurants and businesses of this charming, historic town are found near Dole Park. This grassy spot is a popular place for locals to gather, meet and picnic. The towering pines lining the park provide just the right amount of shade on a sunny afternoon.

Lānaʻi City is also a great place for shopping, dining, history and culture. The Lānaʻi Art Center displays local artists' works, from ceramics to watercolors. Stop at the Lānaʻi Culture & Heritage Center to plan a visit to one of the many cultural and historical sites on Lānaʻi. After your adventure, grab a cup of coffee from a local café.
